As a business owner myself I'm often conflicted by the need to work 'on' my business as much as 'in' my business and it is a challenge I share with many of my clients, particularly those managing the relentless nature of the accommodation and management rights industries.

For over 20 years now I've been specialising in helping management rights, motel and hotel business owners and investors to work 'on' their business by finding better business finance solutions.

Contrary to popular thinking, saving money and getting a better deal on your finance isn't always about switching lenders, it can simply mean getting an experienced negotiator on your side, someone with the industry experience, reputation and bank contacts to make it happen.

In just one consultation I can:

- Review your current loan package, terms and conditions and show you if and how you could get a better deal

- Provide an overview of your maximum borrowing capabilities with a range of lenders
- Provide an overview on cost effective loan structuring, repayments and set-up costs
- Provide advice on your purchase price
- Assist in arranging valuations
- Complete the loan paperwork on your behalf
- Negotiate with the lender (even your current bank) to achieve the most competitive package available
- Facilitate the set up of everyday deposit and trust accounts, EFTPOS, BPay and electronic banking
- Provide proven recommendations for Management Rights specialists in the Accounting and Legal industries

If you'd like to know how you could save money on your business finance, whether new or existing, call me direct. It doesn't cost anything to find out and usually only takes a few minutes. At the very least, it's got to be worth a phone call.
